

The article points out the possibility and necessity to expand the meaning of the traditional notion of imagology. The author believes that one should move from the Alien/Other imagology to the image of bodily and mental self. The project of such an analysis is performed on the material from the works by Ewa Kuryluk and Katarzyna Kozyra.